WITHDRAW IF EQUALITY NOT MADE CERTAIN

Germany Insists at Geneva on Such Recognition of
Her Position

FRANCE AND ITALY
IN A LITTLE SCRAP

GENEVA, Switzerland, July 22 (AP).—Germany threatened to leave the World Disarmament Conference today, lining up with Italy in stating the declaration to be adopted before adjournment was entirely unacceptable.

Count Rudolf Nading, German spokesman, said when the conference resumed after the Summer recess it will be without the collaboration of Germany unless the delegates recognize, before adjourning, Germany's right to a position of equality among the other nations of the world.

UNION IN DISPUTE
Meanwhile, in the room next to that in which the disarmament delegates were gathered, a session of the Interparliamentary Union broke up in a dispute between the French and the Italians.

It developed the Italian deputy, Count Nading, had aroused the resentment of the French Socialist deputy, Renaudel, by attempting to instruct the meeting on parliamentary procedure.

The Frenchman protested, the Italian shouted in answer. Renaudel cried: "Down with the assassins of Matteotti!" referring to the killing of Giacomo Matteotti, a Socialist deputy, which was one of the sensational events of the early days of Fascism in Italy.

POLICE CALLED IN
Before the ensuing melee was ended several blows were struck and police were called in.

Count Nading's threat to the disarmament delegates came during consideration by the conference, a sort of committee of the whole, of the adjournment declaration.

Italy announced through General Italo Balbo, yesterday, the declaration was entirely too general to satisfy a world which has waited

COURT HEARING APPEAL TODAY

Meanwhile Martial Law
Rules With Prussian
Cabinet Out

BERLIN, July 22 (AP).—Tomorrow the German Supreme court will hear arguments in Prussia's appeal against the ousting of its cabinet by President von Papen and the von Papen Government.

There will be at least moral support from Bavaria. Baden and Württemberg, all of which have filed complaints questioning the constitutionality of the Federal Government's course.

But Chancellor von Papen, who said the day the decree was issued that all the appeals in the world would not delay its execution, carried out his promise.

BY MARTIAL LAW
Constitutional or not, the Prussian cabinet is out, and General von Roon, the Prussian military ruler, is ruling by martial law.

At 5 o'clock this morning a squad of soldiers entered the home of Hugo Heilmann, chief of the Berlin police, and ordered him out of bed and placed him under arrest.

The charge was vague. It dealt with the "suspicion of having contravened the presidential decree imposing martial law." A police officer and a member of the Reichsbanner also were arrested.

Heilmann was released after a few hours, as was the Reichsbanner member, a man named Carlberg, but Police Major Walter Encke was held. Headquarters said Encke was suspected of plotting to restore Heilmann at the head of the police, and proceedings will be instituted against him.

OBJECTION MADE TO TREATY IS MET

WASHINGTON, July 22. — The United States army engineers put forward today to disprove claims that the Lawrence River Treaty would destroy the usefulness of the Illinois waterway by limiting the flow of water at Lockport, Ill.

Major-General Lytle Brown, chief of the army engineers, in a memorandum to Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, said that "no conflict" between the limiting provision of the treaty and the United States Supreme Court's decree of April 21, 1920, by that decree, the State of Illinois and the Chicago Sanitary District were enjoined from diverting, after December 31, 1928, from the Great Lakes through the Chicago drainage canal more than 1,500 cubic feet of water per second.

IRISH TARIFF BILL PASSES

Imports From Britain Now
Subject to Unspecified
Duties

DUBLIN, July 22 (CP).—The Dail Eireann in special session tonight adopted the Government's emergency tariff bill after refusing to accept a Senate amendment. The bill becomes law when signed by the Governor-General, probably tomorrow.

President Eamon de Valera's Government may now levy duties of any amount on imports from Great Britain. The measure was designed to answer the 20 per cent duties levied by Great Britain on Free State goods following Mr. de Valera's decision to withhold the land annuities.

NO DELETION
In adopting the bill tonight, the Dail rejected a Senate recommendation to delete the important first section. This section empowered the Government to impose stamp taxes on documents used in transactions, and was aimed at British insurance companies doing business in the Free State.

Patrick McGillivray, former minister for external affairs, and a leading opponent of the bill, asserted it would affect a Canadian insurance company, which is one of the largest operating in the Free State.

MORE POLITE NOW
He brought the Imperial Economic Conference into the debate by referring to the fact that Free State delegates joined in a message to the King, adopted at Ottawa yesterday. Only a year ago, he declared, Sean O'Kelly, now head of the delegation at Ottawa, had described such messages as "hog-wash."

Viscount Hailsham
Heads Committee on Promotion of Trade

Present Aim Is To Evolve Series of Agreements
Between Nations of Empire—Five Major
Committees, Divisions of Conference, Selected

OTTAWA, July 22 (CP).—Viscount Hailsham, Secretary of State for War for Great Britain, was named chairman today of the Imperial Economic Conference committee on the promotion of trade within the Empire. It is the most important committee of the conference and met today for the first time.

Although the committee does not meet again till Monday, all delegations are planning private meetings of their own for tomorrow, meetings at which they will examine proposals made and plot their course.

The idea at present in mind is not the conclusion of one agreement between Great Britain and all the other dominions, together, but rather a series of agreements.

THREE CLASSIFICATIONS
(1) Bilateral agreements between Great Britain and one Dominion.
(2) Bilateral agreements between two Dominions.
(3) Agreements in which Great Britain and possibly several Dominions will be concerned.

EMPIRE CONTENT
Accompanying these proposed agreements on trade, a general understanding is suggested on Empire content, that is to say, the percentage of Empire material and labor which manufactured articles must contain.

Dominions Unite in Suggesting End to Dumping by Russia

Premier Stanley Bruce of Australia Voices Plain-Spoken but Polite Request to Mother Country to Choose in Preference Markets Offered by Members of the Commonwealth

By B. A. McKELVIE
Colonist Staff Correspondent.

HOUSE OF COMMONS, OTTAWA, July 22.—Following action on the part of Premier Bruce of Australia, Canada and New Zealand will definitely suggest that a stop be put to Russian dumping into Empire markets of commodities that compete with those of Dominion products.

With the three most important Dominions directing in polite but unmistakable language their request for United Kingdom to choose between the markets they offer to the Mother Country and Soviet opportunities, there would appear to be a prospect of success but it will not be secured without bitter opposition from British importers, who are anxious to maintain the lucrative trade in Russian dumping.

CLUE LEADS Police to Arms Cache

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask. July 22.—A veritable arsenal, which may prove to be another link in the chain of evidence against the slayers of Corporal L. V. Ralls, has been uncovered by Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the Ifley district, twenty-five miles north of here.

Following a clue mentioned by the Kurulak brothers, held by police in the slaying of Ralls, at Foam Lake, two weeks ago, police uncovered a cache consisting of a double-barreled shotgun, six rifles and nearly 4,000 rounds of ammunition.

Peter Omelchenko, on whose farm the discovery was made, was placed under arrest.

British Columbia lumbermen are joining conversations with Eastern Canadian and British timber interests here in an effort to see if some arrangement cannot be reached for a joint submission to the Conference. It is expected that these discussions will last for several days.

Whether or not enough pressure can be exerted to change the present arrangement is still a question.

LANDS AT END OF FIRST HOP

Weather Calm But Visibility
Poor for Von Gronau's
Flight

REYSDISJOERDUR, Iceland, July 22 (AP).—Captain Wolfgang von Gronau, who for the third time is flying the Atlantic by stages over the northern route, landed in this east shore town tonight from the Island of Svalbard, exactly ten hours after his take-off.

Shortage of fuel made it necessary for him to stop here instead of continuing on to Reykjavik, Iceland's capital, which is 250 miles away on the west coast of the island.

GENERALLY CALM
Fog also was a difficulty in the flight from Germany, visibility being poor all along the Icelandic coast. The weather was generally calm, although there was a fairly strong southerly wind when we landed here.

The airman, bound for Montreal with three companions, planned to remain here overnight. After taking on a new supply of fuel, he will proceed to Reykjavik in the morning, if the weather is favorable.

CANADA APPROVES ARMS RESOLUTION

GENEVA, July 22 (CP).—Before the General Commission of the World Disarmament Conference, Hon. Maurice Dupre today declared Canada favors the five-point adjournment resolution providing for limitation of specified heavy land guns and undefined effective troops.

The resolution represents the greatest sum of agreement which can be reached before adjournment, said the Canadian Solicitor-General, and it furnished some hope for attaining the final goal.

The adoption of the resolution, by sections and without change today, makes it possible for the conference to adjourn for a recess until autumn.

Steel Accord to Divert Millions

TORONTO, July 22 (CP).—An Ottawa dispatch to The Toronto Mail and Empire today says United States steel experts in Ottawa as Imperial Conference observers estimate the recently announced British-Canadian steel accord will divert $40,000,000 worth of Dominion business annually from the United States to Old Country mills during times like the present, and doubt that sum in more normal business periods.

MANY POINTS RECAPTURED BY FEDERALS

Brazilian Troops Battle With State Rebels Over
Long Front

BOLIVIA-PARAGUAY
SPLIT IS SERIOUS

BUENOS AIRES, July 22 (AP).—Wounded began arriving in Rio de Janeiro today from a heavy artillery offensive launched by Brazilian Federal troops against the Sao Paulo State rebels at strategic points along the 225-mile front, near the border line between Sao Paulo and the State of Minas Geraes.

The rebels replied spiritedly to the gunfire of the federal forces. The Government claimed that Gaurupe, Ourifono, and other centres, seized by the revolutionaries at the outset of their movement, had been regained, but the offensive has not yet penetrated appreciably into Sao Paulo territory.

CASUALTIES HEAVY
The Federal forces increased their hospital detachments, indicating that casualties were heavy.

The Federal Government extended until September 15 the period of grace for bills payable in foreign currencies. From Sao Paulo, capital of the rebel state, came news that banks had been reopened after being closed for several days.

TRouble GROWING
Meanwhile, lines were drawn tighter in another of the conflicts disturbing South America. The newspaper La Republica at La Paz, Bolivia, announced that the Government has authorized it to say that negotiations in Washington to compose the differences between Bolivia and Paraguay over the Gran Chaco region were considered terminated. The newspaper, an Opposition organ, editorially urged war with Paraguay.

At Asuncion, the Paraguayan government announced that its delegates had decided to return to Washington and resume discussions of a settlement. The Paraguayan representatives broke off from the conference because of what they called Bolivia's offensive acts.

"THIRD DEGREE" CHARGES LAID

Sealed Indictments Against Thirteen Policemen to Be Opened on Monday

NEW YORK, July 22.—Sealed indictments were handed up tonight by the grand jury that investigated the "third degree" death of Hyman Stark.

Counsel for the thirteen policemen who were arrested in connection with Stark's death was instructed to produce them in court Monday morning, when the bills will be opened.

Preliminary charges against the policemen ranged from second degree murder down to neglect of duty. Four of them were accused of murder.

INVESTIGATIONS SPREAD
Investigation of alleged poison and prison brutalities spread rapidly today as other deaths were laid to "third degree," "sweet box," and torture methods of handling prisoners.

In Griffin, Ga., a county convict was indicted for involuntary manslaughter for the death of a negro convict.

The indictment charged he "did kill one, John Thomas Lassiter, by hitting, striking and beating him with his hands, fists, sticks, pieces of wood and other weapons."

The warden, Captain P. H. Randall, was freed on one dollar bail.

Musical Comedy Producer Passes

HOLLYWOOD, July 22.—Florence Ziegfeld, noted musical comedy producer, died tonight at a hospital here. Death came at 10:31 p.m. after an unexpected setback that developed only tonight. Only Dr. Marcus Radwin, attending physician, said a nurse was in the room when the producer died.

SUMMER HOME BURST
GIBBONS LANDING, B.C., July 22.—The new summer home, here of George Eastington, of Vancouver, along with its contents, was destroyed by fire this afternoon. Loss is estimated at about $10,000.

AUSTRALIA STATES PLANS FOR GREATER TRADE WITH BRITAIN

Rail Dictatorship
Is Most Unlikely
Declares Manion

OTTAWA, July 22 (CP).—A dictatorship to control Canada's two railroad systems is most unlikely, according to Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals. The report had been sent from Ottawa that the Royal Commission on Transportation would make a recommendation that a so-called "dictatorship" is not unlikely.

It was learned today that the Royal commission has not yet reached any decision on the major questions which it is considering.

Would Remove Prohibitions and Surcharges Imposed Two Years Ago and Widen Preferences With Limited Reservations—Will Consider Any Concessions Asked by British Gov't

Dependent on Reciprocity In Agricultural Products

By GEORGE HAMILTON

OTTAWA, July 22 (CP).—Australia is following Canada's lead. In a statement issued late this afternoon, Hon. Stanley Bruce, leader of the Australian delegation, thus outlines the proposals that Australia is making to Britain at the Imperial Economic Conference.

(1) Australia will adhere to all preferences now operating.

(2) Generally to widen existing preferences with a limited number of reservations where Britain has already practically the whole of the trade and in certain other special cases.

(3) By the further reclassification of the tariff to make available in a preferential way to Great Britain, protected areas in Australian industry which are not being exploited by Australian manufacturers.

(4) Close examination of the practice of admission under by-law.

WOULD WIDEN MARGINS

(5) Australia is "even prepared" to widen the margins of preference in Britain's favor with respect to the admission of essential goods not produced in the Commonwealth.

Australia will undertake, possibly with very slight exception, to remove the remaining prohibitions and surcharges imposed two years ago for financial reasons.

(7) Australia will give earnest consideration to any requests made by the British Government for additional concessions which are in her power to make.

MUST BE RECIPROCATED
Mr. Bruce is clear in his statement that all these proposals are conditional upon what Australia deems to be reasonable reciprocity by Great Britain. His statement especially mentions meat, dairy products, fruit, wheat and wool.

The statement recognizes that Great Britain is not in a position to do much in regard to wool, as Empire production is far in excess of Empire requirements. As to wheat, Australia will look forward with interest to discussions with the British and Canadian delegations.

Sunday Is Set as Day Of Prayer

OTTAWA, July 22 (CP).—A day of prayer for the success of the Imperial Economic Conference has been set aside by the Canadian Government. All churches are requested to observe next Sunday, July 24, as a day of prayer and divine intercession.

The Government has issued the following message:

"In accordance with widely spread indications of such a desire on the part of the people of Canada, the Canadian Government requests that Sunday, July 24, should be observed throughout the Dominion as a day of prayer and intercession for divine guidance for those who are charged with representing the several members of the British Commonwealth of Nations in the Imperial Economic Conference."

PEACE CRUSADE
"Fifteen years ago we fought in the air over the battlefield, each seeking the other's life," said Baron von Schleich. "Now we are going on a peace crusade across the Atlantic, and our only bitterness arises from those mispent efforts in the war years."

"I have come to realize the futility of war. It is insane and purposeless. That is why Draper and I have schemed to make this flight. We want to meet, we who are old foes, and cement the ties of peace across the Atlantic."

TO FOUR BIG CITIES
"We propose to make a long tour of all the big cities to try to shake in people's minds the ghostliness of war. We want to meet Eddie Rickenbacker, Colonel Bishop, and other aces, and get them to join our peace crusade."

C.N.R. OFFICIAL

Colonel Hiam came to Vancouver from the position of railway expert for the League of Nations commission on communication and transit at Geneva. He has recently returned from Manchuria, where he was a railway expert with the Lytton Commission.

Questions Right of City to Retain Old Bell Taken as Loot

Resident of South Carolina Writes to City Council Suggesting Chinese Sacred Relic Be Returned to Temple Gardens in China

QUESTIONING the moral right of the City of Victoria to retain in its possession as a curio a sacred Chinese bell, cast sometime before the year 1627 and removed from a temple at Tiahoo by British sailors during the Boxer rebellion and presented to the city in 1904 by Lieutenant McDonald, of H.M.S. Pique, William Savage, a resident of South Carolina, has written to the city authorities suggesting it be returned to China.

The bell is one of two taken from the Temple gardens. One is in Beacon Hill Park, Victoria, and the other is believed to be at Naval Headquarters in England. The history of the bells is somewhat obscure, but it is believed the one in Beacon Hill was a presentation for worship to the Buddhist Nunnery, the Chinese characters on the bell itself indicate.

TAKEN AS LOOT

The Beacon Hill Park bell weighs something over a ton, cast of bronze and is formed of sixteen pieces, each piece a prayer in Chinese. It is possible that these prayers have been translated into English, but there appears to be no record kept in either the Provincial Library or the Provincial Archives. The only reference to the relic in the Archives is that it was taken from the Temple gardens as loot and was carried to a ship's cutter and to the H.M.S. Pique and to Esquimalt to be later presented to the City of Victoria.

GIFT TO BUDDHISTS

According to the record of presentation to the city, the reference shows that the bell was a gift from some group of Chinese or followers of Buddhism to a "Buddhist nunnery," but it is stated that the translation may be faulty and that the word "nunnery" may mean "monastery." So far as known, there never has been an authoritative translation of the characters appearing on the bell itself.

When the bell, now hanging in Beacon Hill Park, was given a coat of paint to preserve it last year, there was criticism of the action of the civic authorities in permitting what was termed a mutilation of the relic. Thousands of visitors to Beacon Hill Park have viewed the bell during the last quarter of a century, and although suggestions have been made concerning its return to its former place, this is the first time that the matter has been placed directly before the civic authorities.

WRITES TO COUNCIL

In his letter to the City Council, Mr. Savage, who signs himself "Yours of English parentage materially"—"Cordially and fraternally"—says: "The enclosed clipping (taken from The Virginia Beach News, Virginia Beach, Va., showing a picture of the bell), gave me the thought that it might be of interest to you.

"I recall that the wonderful old globe which the Germans took at the same time and place that Canada took the old bell, during the Boxer Rebellion and from the Imperial Palace grounds in Peking, the Germans were compelled to return to China that sacred relic. And yet the visitors were, in one case, permitted to keep their loot, while the vanquished must give up theirs. "Does it seem fair? Was it fair to appropriate those relics because the foreign nations took a fancy to them? You may say that all things are fair in war, but in the time of peace does it seem fair to keep that relic, sacred to the Chinese? "It may be that your great state has not thought of this seriously?"

CANADA HAS ITS SHARE OF TRADE

H. F. Mathews Says Empire Hotel Compares Well With Others on Continent

H. F. Mathews, of Winnipeg, general manager of the C.P.R. western hotels, is in the city on one of his regular tours of the system under his charge. Mr. Mathews says that the Empire Hotel in Victoria has kept up its reputation when compared with other hotels on the continent. The patronage accorded the Empire has, in fact, been better proportionately than has been most of the hotels in North America.

It would appear in fact that Canada has less a complaint of than has the United States with regard to travel. On his way to the Coast, Mr. Mathews stopped off at the mountain resort of Banff, where he decided to close these resorts somewhat earlier this year than has been the case in the past. Everything pointed to the being less demand for accommodation late in the season this year and it was therefore decided after the main attractions at Banff were over, to close the hotel on September 1. The other mountain resorts will close at the same time.

CITY COMPLETES NEW WATER MAIN

Sooke and Goldstream Systems Will Be Linked to Act as Safety Measure

With the completion yesterday of the last section of the new thirty-inch watermain connecting the Sooke and Goldstream systems, waterworks extensions undertaken last fall as an unemployment relief measure has been finished, it is announced by City Engineer F. M. Preston, whose department had charge of the work.

The actual connection of the two systems will not be made until a later date, it was explained by the engineer. The delay will probably carry into the Fall season when the demands on the system will be at a low mark.

When the new system is in operation, it will act as a safety measure as any break on either the Sooke or Goldstream supply main will not interrupt the service of the city. The cost of the development was kept within the estimate of $130,000, Mr. Preston stated.

Chinese Will Be Tried on Charge Of Having Drugs

Chan Sam, Chinese, committed for trial in Esquimalt police court on a charge of having drugs in his possession, will be tried before Judge Peter S. Lampman, in County Court here, next Friday.

The accused appeared in County Court yesterday, and elected speedy trial. He was represented by W. T. Straith, his counsel, and R. A. Wootton appeared for the Crown. Chan Sam is accused of having opium in a cannery at Esquimalt on June 20.

Lum Quan Tin, committed for trial on a similar charge, also appeared before Judge Lampman, yesterday, and will elect for trial next Friday. The only other case sent up from the lower court was that of Chan Lee, and Gordon Cameron, his counsel, requested new bail because an earlier order had not been satisfactory to the Attorney-General's department. Judge Lampman advised Mr. Cameron to communicate with the department.

SEEK MISSING MAN
VANCOUVER, July 22.—Police said has been sought in a search for James Burns, who has been missing since July 4 from the home of friends on West Twelfth. The missing man is described as forty-six years old, 5 feet 11 inches, 150 pounds, dark complexion and blue eyes. He is a native of Scotland.

NORMAL FEES ARE RAISED

Government Sets $100. Payable in Two Installments, as Impost

Level of tuition fees at Provincial Normal Schools in Victoria and Vancouver were raised by the Government yesterday, in accordance to a prior announcement by Hon. Joseph Hinchcliffe, Minister of Education. The new fee will be $100 per annum, compared to $40 as heretofore. The average cost of tuition is to be in the neighborhood of $120 per annum.

Surplus of qualified teachers in the province in the last few years has become accentuated, necessitating denial of teaching privileges to applicants from outside of the province, until British Columbia teachers have first been placed. At the present time there is considerable pressure by Prairie teachers for the granting of teaching standing in the British Columbia schools system, and this movement is being resisted, due to conditions existing within the province itself.

Two years ago the Department of Education acted to stiffen requirements for Normal entrance, in favor of selection of those students who would receive the most from the course. The consequent surplus of teachers over available positions, however, has led to the further action to cut down the number of those seeking to enter the profession at this time. The increased tuition fee is initiated as a move in this direction.

With the British, Australia desires to discuss Russian dumping if again adopted.

"For most of the commodities for which we are making requests," Mr. Bruce adds, "the position can be improved by means of a tariff preference of moderate dimensions, but the world economic position in regard to certain commodities is such that we are by no means convinced that a tariff preference alone will meet the case."

CAN HELP THE WORLD

The statement of Mr. Bruce, in part, is as follows: "Let us at this conference attempt to arrive at agreement as to what we can achieve by our joint effort, and let us also determine to bring to the international solution of the problem the whole influence and strength of a united Commonwealth of British Nations."

"I deliberately assert that this conference can help the whole world. It is our immediate task to restore Empire confidence, but within the British Empire, we are conscious of economic fears and doubts of stability and thus set enterprise free. Nations will have beneficial repercussions throughout all nations."

"Australia is approaching the conference in an entirely realistic spirit. We refuse either to belittle or to exaggerate what can immediately be accomplished in the fields of Empire trade."

SHOULD BE ADVANTAGEOUS

"We contemplate, by the further reallocation of the tariff, to make available in a preferential way to Great Britain, protected areas in Australian industry which are not being exploited by Australian manufacturers. These changes should be of considerable advantage to Great Britain."

"Another direction to which we believe we can increase British trade is by a close examination of the practice of admission under by-law. We are even prepared to widen the margins of preferences in Britain's favor with respect to the admission of essential goods not produced in the Commonwealth. I emphasize strong evidence of our preparedness to make an immediate contribution to the revival of British exports to Australia, even though such concessions must obviously prove onerous to our people under existing circumstances."

WILLING TO GIVE

"It is necessary that I should lay it down clearly, however, that all these proposals are conditional upon what we deem reasonable reciprocity from Great Britain. We are not here to barter but to give. We are prepared to give as much as we can possibly afford to give, and I am completely confident that Great Britain will approach the conference in the same spirit."

"The suggestion has been made—I do not know what what measure of authority—that the new British preferences to products from the Dominions under the Import Duties Act are conditional upon new or increased preferences being granted by the Dominions. Speaking for Australia, it is essential that I should make it clear that this suggestion has caused much astonishment. I may add that we can possibly afford to give, and I am completely confident that Great Britain will approach the conference in the same spirit."

IS REDUCING COSTS

"Australia recognizes that if she is asking for consideration in the British market, it is essential that she should take every possible step to reduce her costs of production and increase her competitive power. This Australia is doing, and there can be no doubt of the sincerity of her efforts in endeavoring to restore her financial and economic position."

"The country has faced its economic crisis. A drastic plan of retrenchment, curtailment and taxation was agreed to by the Commonwealth and State Governments. This plan is being carried out. We have reduced our rates of interest and our rates of wages. We have reduced very substantially our costs of production."

for many months for some definite achievement in disarmament. General Balbo spoke after Maxim Litvinoff, representative of Soviet Russia, had tried in vain to work in an amendment declaring for a one-third cut in armaments instead of the "substantial reductions" recommended in the declaration.

ON ANOTHER TACK

The German objection took another tack. Count Nodolny, while declaring the declaration to be unacceptable, emphasized the thesis Germany has a right to a position of equality with the rest of the nations regarding arms.

"The right of equality is a fundamental principle on which the League of Nations rests," he said. "If this conference wants to establish rules and principles of general disarmament, at the same time excluding Germany or other states from these rules and principles, or erasing any statement to disavow such an attitude would be incompatible with sentiments of national honor and international justice."

DOMINIONS UNITE IN SUGGESTING END TO DUMPING BY RUSSIA

sonal views of some of the British brokers is a matter of conjecture, and therefore the united attitude of the three Dominions is welcomed by Premier Toimie and other British Columbians who are working hard to extend trade opportunities for the Province.

Canada will, it is learned, definitely seek a larger share of the British market for Western canned

ATTRACTION OFFER

In her bargaining along the lines of preferential tariffs already so well reciprocated in principle by all parts of the Empire, Canada has offered, it is said, a market for sixty million dollars' worth of steel. This is a very attractive proposal, which is one of the basic resources of the British Isles.

It is also expected that larger opportunities will be made available for Welsh anthracite coal in Eastern Canada, which is largely supplied now from the United States.

MANY POSSIBILITIES

There are scores of marketing possibilities being canvassed by trade experts for British goods in the Dominion in return for opportunities in the United Kingdom for Canada's natural products. The week-end is being spent by the official delegates in studying the submissions already made. This Conference is one of deep earnestness and work.

Train Wrecked By Stalled Car

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 22.—A Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train was wrecked early today at Dapinville, fourteen miles north of here, as it struck an automobile stalled on the track. Four of the five cars left the rails and rolled over on their sides. Railroad officials said only three passengers were hurt, all slightly. The train was bound from Williamsport to Harrisburg. The automobile apparently had been abandoned by its occupants after it stalled. Members of the engine crew said a search of the debris failed to show that anyone was in the car when it was struck.

QUEBEC'S OPPOSITION

Premier Taschereau of Quebec sees no reason for changing his opinion on the St. Lawrence Waterways agreement now that it has been signed. "I had occasion," he says, "to declare during the last session of the Legislature that this canalization was a national crime, and I withdrew nothing from what I have said." He does not believe that time will ever be wasted in sending ships built to face the storms of the Atlantic up the "slow, tortuous route through the canals and the Great Lakes." He believes, in fact, that canalization or no canalization, the present kind of craft will continue to ply the Great Lakes and Upper St. Lawrence and transship their cargoes at Montreal as heretofore. The conditions are such that he does not think they can be changed, for at present the fastest and best and most economic service prevails.

Regarding the power aspect of the St. Lawrence development, Premier Taschereau considers that Canada will not, for a long time to come, need any more power than she can provide for herself. The point that rankles in the mind of Premier Taschereau is the manner in which Quebec, a vitally interested province, has been passed over in the negotiations. It has been stated in explanation of this attitude that the waters which border the St. Lawrence in Quebec are not international, and that Quebec cannot be considered a party to the agreement. Mr. Taschereau's reply is that Quebec furnishes one-third of the revenue of the Federal Government, and its citizens would be taxed to pay their share of the entire waterways project. His people, he says, rely upon him and his Government to guard the legal and economic interests of the province. In commenting on the undertaking The Montreal Gazette says:

"A good deal of whistling is being done to maintain courage in face of the enormity of the financial outlay involved, and, thus whistling, many of the proponents of the scheme are allowing their minds to play with the fancy that, after allowances have been made for building the Welland Canal and for other contributions already made to the project, Canada's half share, after all, can be 'easily provided' and will be 'comfortably sustained.' But will it? Canada's share, according to actual forecast, and after all deductions have been made, will be at least $750,000,000, which is a tidy sum that will not be raised 'easily'; nor is it one that, added to resources already carried, can be borne 'comfortably.' Those whose minds imagine the waterways plans can be carried out in comparative financial ease and comfort are living in a paradise that the wise and far-seeing will not enter."

"UNTOUCHED" BY LAUSANNE

The Lausanne Agreement is, at least in part, contingent on what the United States may do in reaching a revised settlement on war debts. Primarily it is a thing apart, but the continental nations of Europe which are concerned will take it for granted that Washington will recognize the implications of the Lausanne decisions and will act accordingly. In the meantime this is a presidential election year in the United States and President Hoover has found it necessary, for political reasons, to make a statement following the Lausanne discussion. It is to the effect that his Government has had nothing to do with any agreement and that it will not be influenced in any way by the combined action of its debtors should such action, "either open or implied," follow the Lausanne's gentlemanly agreement.

Mr. Hoover was, in effect, driven to make this announcement by the charge of Senator Borah that he was a party to the decision reached at Lausanne. To have kept silence would have compromised him and his Government in the eyes of the American people. In effect, Washington is not a party to any agreement, but President Hoover has indicated the willingness of the American Government to reopen discussion on war debts. That is the most that he could have expected to say in a year of such political tension in the United States. It is essential for his own political fortunes that the question of war debts and reparations should be kept out of the campaign in his country. He knows that Congress, as at present constituted, will not agree to any cancellation of war debts. He knows, too, that both political parties at their nominating conventions, have declared against either cancellation or reduction. Washington has washed its skirts of any contamination from the Lausanne pour parlers. The world must await the result of the American presidential elections before any progress is made in reaching a decision about the future of war debts.

MOTOR CAR TRAFFIC

There are fewer motor cars registered in British Columbia this year than last year. One reason is a desire to save the cost of the license. There is another cause. It is that of the increase in the cost of gasoline due to an addition to the tax. The determination of some motor car owners to keep their cars in garages will be strengthened by the latest rise in the price of gasoline. The consequence of all this is that the Government is not securing the revenue which it anticipated from motor cars.

There is nothing surprising in these efforts at economy. It is true that they have a bad effect on the motoring industry, and there are ways in which a change could be brought about. One way is to make it easier for the motorist to get his licence. There is a point beyond which governments cannot go in the imposition of taxes. The motorist has stood a good deal of taxation, but now there is a gathering impression that the last cent is being squeezed out of the traffic. The result has been that many motorists have laid up their cars, or restricted their use very substantially. That is not good for the Government, or for the industry, or for business as a whole. As The Montreal Star says: "One of the surest ways of stopping the wheels, whether in the factory, the office or the highway, is to keep on applying to them the grinding brakes of excessive taxation."

Similarly, the oil companies are not pursuing a course in their own best interest in raising the price of gasoline at this time. That is a matter, however, which they are speedily finding out for themselves, and no doubt before long they will apply the obvious remedy. It is the desire of the oil companies, just as it should be that of the Government, to have as much motor traffic moving as possible. There should be no methods adopted to drive any portion of that traffic off the roads. Such a course means that both industry and the public exchequer suffer. Hard times are not the times for either excessive taxation or an increase in the price of any commodity necessary to keep the wheels of industry and recreation moving.

FAVORABLE TRADE FIGURES

Canada's tariff policy, as directed by the present Government at Ottawa, has definitely brought about a favorable trade balance for the Dominion. For the twelve months ending on June 30 last exports totalled $547,285,360 as against imports of $516,247,303, or a favorable trade balance of $31,038,057. Thus the country has achieved the result which Mr. R. B. Bennett set as one of his goals in the changes in tariff schedules that have been made since he secured power. Moreover, there are evidences of some revival in trade. During June last the exports of Canadian products totalled $40,945,490, which was an increase of $351,086 over May and of $13,969,734 over April.

The situation as between Britain and the Irish Free State has been admirably summed up by The Dublin Weekly Irish Times which says: "We must recognize that Britain and the Free State, under the present Government, have come to the parting of the ways. The situation, in a sense, is strange, because, though it is almost desperately grave, there is here not the slightest excuse for passions or heroics. The Free State can become a republic tomorrow without the loss of a single drop of blood. She is as free to walk out of the British Commonwealth of Nations as a man is free to walk out of church. Britain offers no threats and has not the least desire to be vindictive. On the contrary, all her transactions with Mr. de Valera's Government have abounded in good will. It is manifest, however, that Britain has counted the cost, and has decided that, as between Free State and Empire, she must choose Empire. She cannot afford to have an alien and distrustful element in the British Commonwealth of Nations."

Britain's Colonial Empire has a big stake in the Imperial Conference, a stake second only to that of Britain herself and the Overseas Dominions. The Colonial Empire has fifty-two separate administrations, a population of 54,000,000 and a trade worth £400,000,000. It affords vast opportunities for Imperial reciprocity not only within itself but with Britain and the self-governing Dominions.

Much of the resentment which exists in the world today, due to depressed economic conditions, is because so many people have acquired the habit of extravagance and find it hard to revert to the habit of thrift.

Mr. Owen D. Young says that colleges are "more and more training men to be experts, until in the language of the old definition they 'know more and more about less and less.'"

RECURRENCE

We've known another world, another sun;
And you and I, and you and I have some time gone
Upon a hill as green as this, a road
Shadowed as this road is with lovely trees.
Upon a lovely day no less as fair
As this fair morning, you, and you and I
Have come upon a wild bird suddenly,
When he was singing in the thicket-bush.

Today's not all of living. Oh my friends,
Have you forgotten how that other song
Came down the wind to our untrodden hearts?
No, you have not forgotten. In your eyes
I see the shadow of remembrance lying.
How we sought Beauty in the dawn of days,
Beauty who made no sound, nor any print
Of her white feet upon the shore of time.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Error of opinion may be tolerated where reason is left free to combat it.

In a courteously worded letter to the Editor Mr. J. Arthur Turner, son of the late Hon. J. H. Turner, questions the accuracy of our statement in a late issue of The Colonist that the government of Hon. C. A. Semlin was dismissed from office by Hon. T. R. McInnes, Lieutenant-Governor, and was succeeded by a government formed by Hon. Joseph Martin. We stated that the article whose accuracy is challenged by Mr. Turner was written without consulting authorities. We have consulted the authority of the late Mr. R. E. Gosnell, a former editor of The Colonist and well-known publicist, and find that our memory of the record of past events seems to be more accurate than that of Mr. Turner.

According to the authority of Mr. Gosnell, from the year 1895 to the year 1903 no less than seven Provincial Ministries were dismissed from office. It is true that Mr. Turner's Ministry was dismissed by the then Lieut.-Governor McInnes in the year 1898, but the successor of that administration was not by Hon. Joseph Martin, but by Hon. C. A. Semlin. Two years later the Semlin government was dismissed from office and was succeeded by that of Hon. Joseph Martin. After the ignominious defeat of the Martin administration, which was in office about a month, just long enough to enable the electorate to pass judgment, Hon. James Dunsmyr formed a government, in which Hon. J. H. Turner was Minister of Finance and Agriculture.

In those days of non-party politics the lives of governments appear to have been of few days and full of trouble. Probably it was for the purpose of restoring order and establishing stability that Lieut.-Governor McInnes essayed an experiment in party government.

If that was his purpose, his judgment of men and affairs was badly misbegotten, for by establishing government politically in harmony with the then Ottawa administration he would place his political friends and perform a service to the province at the same time. But, as we have pointed out, the first party government formed in British Columbia had the confidence of nobody. It was opposed as vigorously by Liberals as by Conservatives. The late Sir Richard McBride ultimately formed a Conservative government upon strictly party lines, and the system he established has prevailed in this province ever since.

Possibly you have heard the song Peter Dawson sings in a rich and sonorous voice about the wonders of London, where they are "digging for gold by day and by night." Nearly all the old Irish songs are as beautiful as the Irish people are adorable. We are especially interested in the people of Ireland just now because of the peculiar position in which they have been placed by their peculiar political leaders. It was because of this interest that we got up at an early hour on Thursday morning and turned on the radio for the purpose of listening to the broadcast of the first and probably only public session of the Imperial Economic Conference. In its own way the radio is almost as wonderful as the sights of London.

There we were comfortably in our home and heard the sweet toned bells of the celebrated carillon ring out the old and ring in the new to the tune of "Land of Hope and Glory." There also we sat comfortably in our chair and listened to the speeches of the Governor-General of Canada, of the Prime Minister of Canada, of the leader of the British delegation and the leader of the Australian delegation. The most important speech of course was that of the Prime Minister of Canada, for Mr. Bennett is acting as host to the members of the Conference in the name of the Canadian people, and naturally his speech was expected to be what in United States parlance is called the "key" speech of the long-anticipated and momentous meeting.

The Prime Minister did not disappoint his audience in the parliamentary chamber nor his vast audience listening in near and remote parts of the world. Mr. Bennett's speech was a masterpiece in explicitness of statement, and its concluding sentences were eloquent.

It made the position of the Canadian delegates clear upon a matter on which there was some trepidation. That position is that Canada does not expect to grab everything and give nothing. The declaration of Mr. Hon. Stanley Baldwin naturally was not so definite, because the British delegation had not been fully informed respecting the position of the overseas delegates.

We, however, are going to be quite frank in this matter of getting up earlier than usual to listen to the radio broadcast. We might have been content to lie in bed until the usual rising hour and to read the speeches as printed in the newspapers but for the presence in the Conference of the Free State

When seen afar
Who knows? Perhaps a life is like a star.

That gains in brilliancy when seen afar;
We know each orb, which through the deepening night
Shines with a lustre so serene and bright.
Must be a place of mingled grief and mirth.

And so a life may be a varied thing,
Now winter-bare, now budding like the Spring.

Now slither with shadows of dismay
And now like music's self, alluring, say:
And only the lone dweller there who views

Knows all its heights of good, its depths of sin.
Yet, seen from far away, each life may shine
With the reflection of the Life Divine.

In which all things began. And the
All-Wise
May in each life discern sublimity.
A life glows like a star, perhaps,
when viewed

By eyes that penetrate infinitude!

LIFE IN FILM COLONY SHOWN

Constance Bennett Stars in "What Price Hollywood?" Opening at Dominion Today

A vivid vignette of Hollywood and its environs, replete with the glamor and striking color of the nation's most picturesque city, is authentically presented in R.K.O. Pathe's new Constance Bennett starrer which opens at the Dominion Theatre today for a three-day run. Miss Bennett is versatile in her splendid enaction, revealing pro-penalties for the humorous with as much of her capabilities for the dramatic. Every phase of film colony life from work to play is frankly revealed in this tale relating the meteoric rise of a waitress to the heights of success as a film star. In "What Price Hollywood?" one may dine in the Brown Derby Restaurant, loiter on the sands of Malibu Beach, or attend a swank premiere at Grauman's Chinese Theatre. If preferred, one can visit the studio to see a picture in the making, spend an afternoon at a Beverly Hills mansion, swim in its luxurious ultra-modern, ride on its bridge path, promenade on Hollywood Boulevard or view a horse race at Agua Caliente.

Evidence of Air Tragedy

Just Roamin' Around WHEAT CROP IS RIPENING EARLY

N. R. Des Brisay, of C.P.R., Says Satisfactory Harvesting Conditions Are Anticipated

N. R. Des Brisay, of Winnipeg, assistant passenger traffic manager of the C.P.R., is in Victoria on one of his regular tours. He is accompanied by E. F. L. Sturdee, general passenger agent at Vancouver.

Mr. Des Brisay says the crop on the Prairies is coming along well and already harvesting has commenced in a few favored spots in Manitoba. The indications are that the harvest will be fairly early, which should give an assurance of the saving of what is a very bountiful harvest.

There is nothing special connected with the visit of the assistant manager to the West at this time.

The old coaching days had a gallop all their own. Romance was ever in the air, when our fathers and forefathers used the stage coach to pay their periodical visits to town, and our bonneted grandmothers had to be helped up on to the top of the "London Flyer," which was considered too swift to be safe doing its eight miles an hour; and, when a stop at sundry good old hostleries, like "The Boot Inn," near Castle Greely, to change horses, gave the passengers a respite from the jolting and an opportunity to test the "best grog in the world!"

Gentlemen bowed their ladies into and out of the fine old coaches. There was a doffing of fine hats in those days, that these halcyon times know nothing of. There was a finesse in the proffer of my lord's snuff box, and adventure hovered ever near a coach as dusk came on; even a highwayman had an address, an apologetic bow and requested the victims of his precarious vocation to "Hand over their jewels!"

A lady was ever treated with respect, although she might be robbed, politely, of her pocket trinkets at the same time, with "Stand! Beauty! and deliver!"

The old-fashioned coach and horses have both gone into the limbo of things forgotten; things unknown to the youth of this present generation. There are many things unknown to the youth of this present generation!

With the advent of the motor car, horses are no longer a familiar sight in the city and are almost "a-bow" in the city. Gallantry is likewise not as familiar as it used to be; instead, familiarity is not as gallant as it might be!

AN OLD MEMORY
Fifty years ago, in 1882, the hamlets of Pendle Hill, Pence in Pence, Wheatly Lane, Harper's Lane, and other villages in Harrison Alnshire, Lancashire, were entirely dependent on a triweekly coach that passed old Nutter's farm on its way through Pence, and tooted its long horn as it drew near to where a small boy often stood by the side of the Manor Road at the vicarage gates, to get a ride to Acerrington, Burnley, Brierfield, Nelson, or Colne, as the case might be.

If the coach and its four fine bays went down "Witches Lane," a very weird and crooked country road, banked with still more eerie cottages, the boy got a distinct thrill—tinged with awe.

He still recalls the politeness of the coachman, the kindness of the resplendent trumpeter, and the quaint parcels and packages that disappeared into the "boob."

And how fast we seemed to travel! But, if a passenger were ill, or old, or an invalid, as was my mother, how slowly, gently, we took the corners; for, in those old-fashioned days there was much consideration for others, and the rush and hurry-scurry of today had not as yet ousted that noble trait from the high pedestal it occupied in the ordinary relationships of daily life.

WE ARE SPEED-CRAZY
Today, everyone is in a hurry! There is no time to be anything else. The rushing mania of acquisition has bitten most of us. We must "get there." And so we drop the time-honored customs, the traditional good manners and fine feeling. We have made a short-cut through every field of clean motive, and have torn down the stiles that had to be climbed, and have erected wide open archways of a more modern style, that we can pierce at top speed!

"Master! You are just getting wound up to tell about that motor trip down from Duncan; but, time's up, so dry up, right now!"

MINING REPORT ON LEECH AREA

Crow's Bar Placers Also Is Subject of Review by Department

Mining properties in which Victorians have an interest are touched on in a recent report of A. M. Richmond, assistant resident engineer, to the Department of Mines. The report covers development at the Leech River property of McDonald & Butterworth, the Crow's Bar Placers, northwest of Clinton, and several other properties.

Dealing with the Leech River workings, Mr. Richmond says, in part:

"Work done on the lower Leech River by McDonald & Butterworth disclosed an old river channel about 300 feet north of the present river and sixty feet higher. A cut across the old bed gave encouraging gold values, but further work along the bedrock would be necessary to prove the importance of the ground. The old channel is about six feet deep, above which is about twelve feet of overburden carrying no gold. The proportion of possible pay gravel, to the amount of work necessary to recover the gold, is probably less than 30 per cent, and consequently careful testing is essential before attempting operations on a large scale." Mr. Richmond states.

STUDIED PROPERTY
Mr. Richmond reports he spent considerable time at the Crow's Bar Placers property, in consequence of public reports of rich prospects, and took samples from five sections by panning.

"It was found that the 160-foot exposure averaged twenty-one cents per cubic yard for a paystreak bed 10.5 feet thick. When this value is reduced on account of the thirty feet of practically barren overburden and the twenty feet of underlying barren gravel, all of which must be moved in the present sluicing operations, the value of the ground moved becomes 3.65 cents per cubic yard."

Mr. Richmond reports. He found some traces of gold and platinum in the overburden. No accurate estimate could yet be formed as to the yardage and value, he concluded.

Mr. Richmond also examined the Bridge River district and several other properties, all of which are set out in his report to the Department of Mines, included in the half-yearly summary of the mineral production of the province.

ATTRACT STUDYNoted Research Workers
Are Pleased With Rich
Source of Material

Writing a history of the fur trade in the West, Professor Arthur S. Mendenhall, head of the history department of the University of Saskatchewan, is spending the summer in Victoria, where he has ready access to the valuable files of the Provincial Archives, one of the richest sources for research in this connection.

Professor Mendenhall arrived in the city with the object of spending a week at the Archives, but so rich was the field laid open to him here along the line of his research, he will stay for two and a half months, he has intimated to John Housie, archivist.

Charles L. Stewart, of the University of California, is another visitor at the Archives, studying the Spanish period of exploration on this coast, from 1774 to 1782, with particular reference to Admiral Quadra and Captain George Vancouver, and their relationships on this coast.

Early work on the British Columbia-Yukon boundary is attracting the attention of a considerable group here studying valuable records kept in the Provincial Archives.

Other business included the appointment of A. E. Jones and Henry Hearn to act as a committee for making arrangements for transporting the delegates to Luxton.

Gets Distracted in Cabaret Rough-and-Tumble—Escapes Unhurt But Gives His Blood to Victim of Motor Accident

By GORDON SINCLAIR
HONGKONG.—The waiter in the long white nightgown came patter-patter-patter into the room with a tray.

"How's daddy?" Both the buses drove up before the car had stopped tumbling down the hill and we all scuttled down to see what had happened. Somebody brought a torch and I leaned over a little tow-headed fellow who looked up and demanded "How's daddy?"

"He's all right son; how're you?" "Oh I'm all right but Daddy—sure he's not hurt?"

As the boy talked his voice sounded as if it had a leak in it. An awful gurgling noise. My hands were suddenly damp and sticky and then I saw a sharp piece of glass right out of the boy's neck. It was a Chinese woman at the wheel and the blood was coming out in spurts.

I picked the lad up and we hurried up the steep side of the hill. There was a big fast car at the top with a Chinese woman at the wheel and a man in a suit. I asked her to rush us along to a taxi and she did so. We were waiting for a taxi when a woman in a white dress came running. She was carrying a child in her arms. She was crying and she was shouting "My baby! My baby!"

The baby was a little girl. She was crying and she was shouting "My baby! My baby!"

CONFIDENCE MEN LOSE THEIR PREY
Wanted Game Played Ineffectively in Vancouver—Affable Stranger Eludes Police

VANCOUVER, July 22.—The lure of the "walled game" failed to tempt Christian Gungun, 204 Cordova Street, who put police on the trail of two confidence men who would have practised the game on him.

Gungun told detectives that on July 19 he met an affable stranger on Georgia Street viaduct and made an appointment to visit New Westminster on Friday.

Arriving in the Royal City, he went to Queen's Park with the stranger, and while strolling along a pathway, they found a wallet bulged with important-looking papers and information regarding racetrack betting. When they were examining their find, an agent named arrived on the scene and claimed the wallet.

The newcomer was profuse in his thanks for the return of the wallet and had just commenced to offer a reward for its recovery in the form of "sure thing" racetrack tips, when Gungun suddenly remembered reading of how others had been fleeced by the "wallet game." He excused himself and hastened to New Westminster police headquarters. Officers went to the park, but the men had disappeared. Search for them has been extended to Vancouver.

Old Mr. Toad Sings His Thanks By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Of song no words need be a part If it but come straight from the heart. —Old Mr. Toad.

Old Mr. Toad had just been brought down across the Green Meadows by Farmer Brown's Boy and gently placed on the ground close to the Smiling Pool. All the way there the singers of the Smiling Pool had been pouring out their joy in a mighty chorus. Now not a voice was to be heard save that of Redding the Blackbird perched on top of an alder not far away. He was singing, but all the singers in the water had abruptly stopped as Farmer Brown's Boy drew near.

Old Mr. Toad took one look at the Smiling Pool and with a funny little sound of happiness hopped straight for it. He didn't stop to show a sign of gratitude to Farmer Brown's Boy. He seemed to be entirely forgotten. It amused Farmer Brown's Boy. He chuckled and said: "So this is all the thanks I get for getting you out of that post hole and then bringing you all the way down here!"

By this time Old Mr. Toad was in the water. He swam a few strokes, then turned and swam back to where when he put his feet down on the bottom his head was just above the water. Then he looked up at Farmer Brown's Boy with his beautiful golden eyes and his throat began to swell. It wasn't his throat itself, but a pouch in his throat, the presence of which you would have suspected until that moment. It swelled and swelled until it was like a great silvery bubble larger than his head.

Then, although his mouth was closed, there came from Old Mr. Toad the sweetest song of the Smiling Pool, one of the sweetest voices of the Springtime. His song was short, but in a moment it was repeated. There were no words to that song. No words were needed. Farmer Brown's Boy understood it without words. Old Mr. Toad was singing his thanks and it was coming straight from his heart. That great silvery bubble at his throat was his music bag.

Now the great chorus of the Hyas began again and with their voices was mingled the trill of Stickytoes and Tree Toad, who also was in the Smiling Pool. But sweetest of all was the voice of Old Mr. Toad.

Farmer Brown's Boy smiled as he looked down at the old toad who was singing his thanks and it was coming straight from his heart. That great silvery bubble at his throat was his music bag.

Girl Guides Learn Useful Arts While Enjoying Camp Life

Victoria West Companies Have Beautiful Camp at Gordon Head—Visitors See Many Interesting Features, Including Evening Bonfire

"There! I told you we would have kid-glove pudding. Now you know what it is."

Three or four visitors, two of whom, at least, were from a far-away Prairie city, were enjoying supper one evening this week at the Victoria West Companies' camp at Gordon Head. A Guide officer, one of the "higher-ups," had arrived at the same moment, and as she joined the visitors on the pathway leading down to the lovely broom and maple-sheltered slope where the evening meal was spread, she prophesied under her breath that the sweets would be "kid-glove" pudding.

PROVED DELICIOUS

However, kid-glove pudding proved to be delicious. More familiarly known by the name of chocolate blanc-mange, it had a clamorous welcome from the hungry girls, and presently rows of empty plates bore mute testimony to its popularity. "Higher-up" had also finished her, commending it as "extraordinarily good." As she finished imparting the details of its composition to a visitor she added: "It is amazing how well the girls can cook, particularly when you realize that some of them have never been allowed to do anything at home!"

Cooking is one of the many useful arts which Guides learn when they go to camp. The Guide Camp at Gordon Head has the regulation Guide camp stove, a shallow earthen pit, which is the firebox surrounded by an eight or ten-inch brick wall on which the big metal top rests. This offers ample room for the washbowl, which has a constant supply of hot water for cooking and washing purposes, and the three or four big saucepans, and other utensils required for vegetable, meat, soup and pudding. Girls learn to prepare, cook, and serve all these things. Much latent culinary talent has been developed, and just such stores in Guide camps of the past.

THE CAMP

Domestic arrangements naturally differ greatly from those of a house, but habits of orderliness, tidiness, neatness, and cleanliness are encouraged.

Gordon Head camp lies on a long, shrubby, and river steep slope, which terminates in a well-sheltered beach that catches both the morning and afternoon sun. Tents are pitched in little grassy spaces among thickets of broom, giving privacy and shelter from wind. Dressing rooms are cunningly tucked away among the shrubs. Wandering paths attract one's feet in half a dozen directions. The prospect is delightful. Far away to the east and north lie the mountains of the Mainland, dominated by the snow-capped dome of Mount Baker. It is another of the happily-chosen campsides which have helped to make Guiding popular with Victoria girls.

The camp is divided into two groups under the general charge of Miss Betty Phillips, commandant. Group No. 1, which occupies the highest part of the slope, comprises Fourth Victoria West and Esquimalt Guides, and Group No. 2, well down the hill, comprises Second and Sixth Victoria West. In addition to being commandant of the camp, Miss Phillips is commandant of the first group, with Miss Lucy Johnson as quartermaster, and Miss Edith Green and Miss May Phillips as assistants. Miss Betty Dunnell is commandant of the second group, with Miss Styan as quartermaster, assisted by Miss Eileen Frank. The staff of the camp consists of the nurse, Miss Friend, of Shawinigan Lake School; Miss Eleanor Everall, swimming instructor, and Miss Edith Wexler, an American Girl Scout from Boston.

GUIDE ROUTINE

The routine is regulation Guide routine. Each day provides for games, tracking (following clues through a combination of pebbles and sticks known by Guides and Scouts only), swimming, bathing, the keeping and dispensing of stores, the disposal of refuse and general tidiness, and cooking. The last subject is taught by the quartermasters, Miss May Phillips and Miss Nellie Styan. There are also, of course, early prayers, morning drill, inspections, and occasional lectures on health and hygiene. Subtly, in between all this, the instructors convey an idea of Guide ideals: unselfishness, thoughtfulness for others, truthfulness, honor, self-reliance. "To play the game for the sake of the game, and to learn to lose with a smiling face." It is a notable fact that no Guide ever screams or cries for help in fun when in the water. It might mar another's chances in time of dire need.

The notice board suddenly springs into view, tacked to a wild cherry tree, and nearby a cardboard box for letters. It speaks well for Guide loyalty to home and friends that the letter box had to be cleared two or three times a day.

"WORK SONGS"

Although there are fifty-one Guides in camp, the larger group containing thirty-two girls, the smaller group nineteen. They range in age from twelve to sixteen years, a time of ready laughter and quick affection. Mealtimes and bedtime are particularly merry periods, but it is delightful to watch any little group on fatigue duty, such as clearing away supper or washing dishes, some instinct, known to the primitive peasant folk of other lands who long ago invented "work-songs," has shown the girls the value of singing to help them with their tasks. Greasy plates and knives are cheerfully polished clean to the "Dish-Washing Song," a camp adaptation of the "Volga Boat Song."

Bathing, a parade has not been as popular as it might be because of the coolish weather, but a spirit of mock challenge has been developed through the bathing song, which begins "Come where the sea gleams coldly in the sun." A home-made raft, in the manufacture of which many a long nail went to the bottom of the sea, has helped to popularize bathing. A comical excursion was the first voyage of the said raft.

The camp has a court of honor, whose sessions are secret. Before this court are brought any little personal problems which call for adjustment or redress.

BONFIRE AND BED

There is always the occasional case of homesickness. But girls are becoming increasingly self-reliant, and this year there has not been a single case of weeping, even for wasp stings.

Last thing of all comes the after-supper bonfire on the beach. This ends the day's activities. It is the invited guests who are brought to the bonfire, which above all others brings Guides into intimate communion. Closing daylight folds in its soft embrace a picture which Guides remember long years after a crackling fire, their toes buried in the sand, singing favorite songs as the sparks fly upward to the fading banners of after-sunset. The youthful voices mingle sweetly, while the commandant, her back against a sun-warmed log, beats time with a piece of driftwood for "Incy Wincy Spider." "I had a Cat," "Green Grow the Rashes O," and still more appropriate to the moment, "Fire, Fire, Fire!"

The sea changes from rose-opal to grey, and from grey to silver-streaked slate. The young voices sing on, increasingly drowsy, but happy to the last glow of the embers. While the commandant and some of the bigger girls take out the last remnants of fire, the girls file up the bank, then, arms linked, back through the shadowy woods to camp. Ten minutes later they are in their blankets, and the quiet voices of the Guides, discussing the day's doings round the cosy cook stove, silence reigns.

What One Girl Wore

By BETTY BROWNLEE

Even those of us who are fortunate enough to spend the summer months away from cities—beneath green trees or on sunny sands—sometimes find it necessary to come into town to attend to some important business matter or to do a little shopping that we neglected to finish before starting the long vacation.

Navy blue is the favored color for a practical and cool summer dress that must be given utility wear. And charming models in this color are fashioned in all the popular summer fabrics. Triple sheers, romanes, printed crepes and cotton materials are all used to advantage.

A touch of white adds a summery look to a number of these frocks. Consider, for instance, the striking silk skirt sketched for you today. On a hot day recently in town, we observed this smartly dressed woman—it was late in the afternoon and she had obviously been busy all day—but she looked as cool as a cucumber.

It is a silk suit fashioned of printed crepe, the jacket and coat using a blue background with a small white design and the skirt reversing the same color combination. The blouse boasts a cape collar and an ingenious sleeve treatment. Rows of fastenings are used to outline the cape and the fullness of the sleeves. The skirt reveals a slight flare.

Irish Eyes Are Smiling

THE Irish are not going to miss anything if the above picture is any indication. The girls are secretaries to the members of the Irish delegation to the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa. They are Mary Mooney, Sheila Murphy and Helen Kelly, all of Dublin, Ireland.

Record Is Set by Graving Docks in Esquimalt Harbor

More Than 150 Men Swarm About Ship's Sides Cleaning and Painting Ss. Empress of Japan Before She Sails for Orient—Comparison Made

The largest Pacific liner entered the largest Canadian drydock yesterday morning, setting a new record for the Dominion Government's graving docks at Esquimalt.

Punctually at 7 a.m. the Ss. Empress of Japan pushed her nose between the concrete walls of the huge basin. The caisson was towed into place and pumping commenced. Within three hours after the liner was docked the basin was empty of its 43,000,000 gallons of water and the usual catch of landlocked fish was made.

LEAVES TODAY

Yarrows Limited turned 150 men loose on the ship's sides, giving her a fresh-water bath, followed by scraping and then painting. Work is expected to be completed late this afternoon, after which the vessel will be refloated and returned to Vancouver, where she will load for the Orient.

No tariff is charged for the docking of the Empress liners. It was explained yesterday. The Dominion Government removed the charges on these ships to encourage the docking of them here.

REMOVE TARIFF

The tariff is four cents per gross

Vancouver Island Coach Lines Limited

Two young art students were ambulating through the picture gallery. "By the way," said one of them, "have you seen Dauber's latest picture?" A remarkable thing.

"Yes," said the other, "I've seen it; but what is there remarkable about it?"

"There's a ticket on it marked 'Sold,'" he explained.

CONSOLIDATION PLAN EVOLVED

Interstate Commerce Commission Submits Proposal to Eastern Roads

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP).—A new consolidation plan for the unification of scores of Eastern United States railroads into four great systems now rests with the carriers.

It was put before them by the Interstate Commerce Commission which sought, by yielding on some points and making new suggestions, to end years of wrangling over how consolidations should be effected to preserve competition, serve the public and save money.

By the new plan, carriers would be grouped under the Baltimore and Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York Central. The Delaware & Hudson and the Seaboard Air Line would constitute independent systems, while the Pennsylvania would be forbidden entry into New England.

The new schedule would break up the proposed Wabash-Seaboard system; abrogate trust agreements; and authorize the Pennsylvania to absorb the Wabash and the Baltimore & Ohio to take in the Western Maryland.

HEIAN MARU TO DOCK TUESDAY

Arrives at Quarantine This Morning, But Proceeds to Vancouver First

Due to William Head quarantine station at 4 o'clock this morning, the N.Y.K. motorship Heian Maru will proceed direct to Vancouver after securing pratique.

She will return here Tuesday to load 500,000 feet of lumber for Japan at the Ogden tank docks. The Heian Maru has 408 tons of freight for Vancouver and thirty-one passengers. For Seattle she has sixty-three passengers.

Harry Clark, local representative for the line, stated yesterday that the N.Y.K. was withdrawing two of its veteran liners from the North Pacific service.

HER LAST TRIP
When the Shidzuka Maru sails from here on August 23, it will be her last trip on this run. The Yokohama Maru will make her last sailing from this port on September 20.

This will leave only three vessels in the service between the Orient and this coast. They are the new motorships Heian Maru, Hikawa Maru and Hiei Maru.

A new schedule will be arranged so that just as frequent a service will be given between here and Japan with the three remaining boats. The call at Hongkong will be cut out and Kobe will be made the final destination of the ships in the Far East.

OPTIMISM IN MAN'S WILL
Belief that Wales will see a return of prosperity is expressed in the will of William Simons, of Cardiff, general manager of the Cardiff Docks works of the British Iron and Steel Company, Limited, and a director of other iron, steel and oil companies. He left an estate of $180,000 gross value, net personally $83,000. In the will Simons stated that it would be recognized that it would be a severe setback owing to the abnormal world trade depression, "but undoubtedly they will recover." "I therefore instruct my trustees to share the will, 'not to sell good shares if there is any prospect of recovery in a year or two.'"

Over Submarine Grave

A French Navy cutter and the submarine Ariane are shown above the spot in the English Channel, where the French submarine Promethee recently went to the bottom, carrying sixty-six of her crew to death. At the top are two survivors of the Promethee's crew with Captain Coisel du Mesnil, commander of the ill-fated craft (inset). These men were on deck when the submarine took the fatal plunge, and were picked up by a French fishing boat.

Chicago Tour Party Arrives From Seattle
The Pacific Northwest tour party, led by R. J. Eberhart, tour manager, arrived here at noon yesterday from Chicago, and were taken on a sightseeing trip. Several hours were provided for shopping tours, Charles F. Earle, district passenger agent of the Canadian National Railways, stated.

Leaving at midnight last night, the party will be taken to Jasper Park, where they will spend several days at the summer resort there, after which they will return to Chicago. The majority of the party comprised leading business men of the Windy City.

The village football match was about to commence, and the opposing captains were inspecting the ground.

"Don't like it," said the visiting skipper, shaking his head.

"Don't like what?" asked the home captain.

"The ground," replied the other. "Hardly a blade of grass to be seen."

"Well, you didn't come 'ere to grass, did yer?" was the home captain's retort.

Dollar Ships Change Crew
Chinese Dining-Room Staffs Are Now Being Replaced by White Men
When the President Taft, of the Dollar Steamship Line, sails for the Orient today it will be the last trip she will make with a Chinese dining-room staff, it was learned here yesterday.

All Dollar liners under mail contract will have a portion of their Oriental crews replaced with white men, it was stated, to conform with the Lones-White Act, which specifies that on such ships all officers and two-thirds of the crew shall be American citizens.

Inasmuch as this means a replacement of fifty Chinese to each boat, approximately 1,000 white men will be given employment aboard Dollar liners operating on the Pacific.

The first ship to augment its white crew is the President Coolidge, new $7,000,000 liner built largely from government loans.

In the past many American ship lines carried numerous Orientals in their crews. Explanations advanced were that American seamen were not dependable enough when they reached "wet" ports.

Ship Held For Party Of Agents
To accommodate a party of 475 insurance agents, the Ss. Princess Marguerite was held until 8 o'clock last night, leaving for Seattle half an hour behind schedule.

The party, comprising delegates to the convention of the Washington State Insurance Association, arrived here at 12:45 o'clock noon aboard the Ss. Princess Kathleen and was taken on a sightseeing trip. Ss. Princess Kathleen took out at approximately 1:50 passengers on her regular weekly cruise of the Gulf Islands. She returned at 7 o'clock last night.

Churches and Their World-Wide Work

Schweitzer Is Saviour Of Organs and Negroes

Missionary Doctor of West Africa Will Open Organ in Alsatian Birthplace—Restored as Memorial of Father

One of the most pleasing occasions in which Dr. Albert Schweitzer, a sketch of whose rich personality and remarkable career was given in last Sunday's Colonist, will take the leading part, will be staged in his own quiet Alsatian village. This will be the inauguration of the organ recently restored according to the doctor's own design in the village church, where his father was pastor for half a century.

This simple building has the distinction, shared by some other churches in Alsace, of being used by both the Protestants and Roman Catholics of Gumbach. The former use the building early on Sunday and their service is followed later by the Mass. The organ is used by both.

NEGROES AND ORGANS
The restoration of the organ, Dr. Schweitzer told Dr. H. B. Peet, as reported in The Scots' Observer, is the tribute of the parish to his father's memory, and by the way, of his forest revenues. "I love organs, and especially preservation of the beautiful tones of fine old instruments," was the comment of this master organist, himself premier biographer of Johann Sebastian Bach and a leading interpreter of his works. "I have gone out of my way to play old organs in your village churches and I do hope when they are restored everything will be done to preserve their mellow tones."

"A friend of mine in Paris," the musical missionary remarked, "says that in Africa I spend my time saving old Negroes, and in Europe in saving old organs."

WIFE IS INTERPRETER
No mention of Dr. Schweitzer would be complete without reference to his devoted wife. Without her he would have been unable to stand the climate and have had to return to Europe. But her health has improved and she was able to accompany him to Britain and was chief interpreter of his public addresses.

The Tuesday evening lecture will be held under the auspices of the Victoria British-Israel Association. There are no admission fees, but offerings are taken.

Tenoridd Roberts, of Portland, will sing a baritone solo.

CELTIC SAINTS TO BE HONORED
A greater reverence for the old Celtic saints was urged by Dr. Davies at the recent diocesan conference. He referred to the 800th anniversary of the foundation of the diocese of Vancouver, which is to be celebrated next year. In the year 1186 Prior Athelwald was consecrated bishop of this diocese at York, and now, after the lapse of eight centuries, it is fitting, he pointed out, that those who were heirs of the past should become better acquainted with their heritage. "We must look," he said, "to the rock from which we were hewn and the pit from which we were dug."

Dr. Williams recalled the fact that the Celtic saints, bishops and kings, from whom the religion in the northern regions of England had their origin, such honored names as Aidan and Oswald, Cuthbert, Ninian and Kentigern, all have historical associations with this diocese.

"If we still think, as I do," said the diocesan, "that we still feel here an influence of their spirit, let us do what we can to increase it. Let us have more modern pilgrimages, processions and instruction should be used to make more real the colorful and inspirational history of those earlier days and their notable personalities."

In recognition of the religious aspects of the Economic Conference which opened this week at Ottawa, the Most Rev. Dr. Charles J. Worwood, Archbishop of Nova Scotia and Anglican Primate of Canada, has issued the following statement:
Special services of intercession for a divine blessing upon the Economic Conference are asked to be held in every church on Sunday, July 24, so far as that may be possible. In Ottawa, a service will be held when the Governor-General and staff will attend and all delegates to the Conference are invited. It is an official welcome by the Church of England in Canada to the delegates. The Primate will preach.

"Spiritualism Versus Christianity" is the second of the series of lectures given in the New Thought Temple by Evelyn Lily Wiffen at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow. One of her own personal experiences Mrs. Wiffen will endeavor to give frank and reasonable answers to the following questions:

Should we call our loved ones back? To what extent are they conscious of our grief for them? What effect does it have upon them? Do they grieve at the loss of their original body? Did Jesus the Christ have communion with the departed? Why does the church denounce Spiritualism and yet pray to Jesus and believe in the communion with the saints? What place, if any, has Spiritualism in the religious world?

BISHOP'S ACTION GIVEN SUPPORT
Replying to the criticism by a correspondent in The Canadian Churchman as to Rev. Dr. R. J. Renison, Bishop of Athabasca, re the restoration of St. Paul's Church, Toronto, several letters appeared in the last issue of this journal endorsing the Bishop's action.

He took the step, it is stated, with the full approval of the House of Bishops of the Province of Rupert's Land. The church in the Diocese of Athabasca, it was said, has gained materially through the missionary backing of St. Paul's Church under Dr. Renison's inspiration.

Principal W. H. Vance, of Vancouver, writing in the press, calls attention to the fact that Dr. Renison is not the first bishop in the Anglican Church of Canada to resign his see and accept a rectorship. Bishop Sullivan, of Algoma, and Bishop Courtenay, of Nova Scotia, took this step, both, however, having served for several years as bishops.

BLIND AUTHORESS GIVEN DOCTORATE

Glasgow University Recently Conferred Degree of LL.D. on Miss Helen Keller

The wonderful blind and deaf American authoress, Miss Helen Keller, is now Dr. Keller, having been honored by Glasgow University during her recent visit to the Old Land. In handing the coveted parchment to Miss Keller, the dean of the university spoke of the leading part she had taken in the education of the blind, and of the series of lecture tours for raising an endowment for the American foundation for the blind.

On the following Sunday, Dr. Keller, dressed in the scarlet robe of her recently conferred degree, spoke from the pulpit of St. Bride's Church, Bothwell. Her address, according to The Scots Observer, was beautiful in its simplicity, and though those who were seated in the front pews had little difficulty in following her remarks, Miss Thompson, her secretary, repeated the words sentence by sentence.

Her address was a eulogy of the Bible and what it had done for the speaker. "Ever since I was a little girl," she said, "I have read it constantly for courage and for joy. Through all my difficulties the Bible has kept my hope of accomplishment bright. No matter what our creed or interpretation of the Scriptures may be, the Bible is our position of comfort and our source of strength. It is the only thing in which we waste our energies."

This will be an old-time evangelistic service, to which all are invited.

At the morning service the subject will be "The Rock of Ages." The Sunday school and Bible classes meet at 9:45 o'clock, the prayer meeting on Thursday at 8, and the young people's meeting on Friday at 8.

The evening service each Sunday is preceded by the singing of popular hymns from 7:15 to 7:30 o'clock, led by the choir under the leadership of the acting organist and choirmaster, Claude Hughes, L.A.S., L.L.C.M.

In the morning the choir will render the anthem, "Thine, O Lord, is the Greatness" (Kent), and Mrs. F. E. Rowley will sing, "I Come to Thee" (Caro Roma). In the evening the anthem will be, "There Were Ninety and Nine" (Sankey), and J. S. Mannion will be heard in two selections, "O God Have Mercy" (St. Paul) (Mendelssohn), and "Life's Lesson" (McConnell Wood).

EDDIE SNEAD WINS 140-POUND SINGLES TITLE

Finnish Athletes Expected to Take Distance Events

Experts Figure Finland's Representatives Will Cop Running Honors From 1,500 Metres Up to and Including Classic Marathon

LOS ANGELES, July 22 (AP).—Except that the pursuit may be more varied and interesting, there appears scant prospect of any combination of talent strong enough to prevent Finland from taking most, if not all, of the Olympic running honors from 1,500 metres up to and including the classic marathon.

The Anglo-Saxons have sent some star runners to this Olympic party, including Lovelock of New Zealand; Thomas, of England; Halliwell, Crowley and Cunningham, of the U.S.A.

Poland has one of those rarities, a conqueror of Paavo Nurmi. Injannus Kussosinski, candidate for long-distance honors, Argentina, Japan and Germany have sturdy-limbed men for the routes, especially in the marathon.

Yet about all most of them will get during the tenth Olympiad will be a rear view of the flying Finns.

FORMIDABLE LIST
Even without counting on the eminent Nurmi, the Finns have prospective and probable winners in Harry Larva, 1,500-metre champion; Toivo Loukka, steeplechase champion; Lauri Lehtinen, record-breaking youngster; Volmar Co-Hollo, in the 5,000 and 10,000-metre runs; Martelin and Toivonen, in the marathon, if Nurmi is ruled out of the event he has fitted himself for especially.

Larva and Eino Purje, in the 1,500 metres for Finland, will likely have their hands full in what every one expects will be a record-breaking Olympic final. The sensation will be Luigi Beccali, of Italy, if he can duplicate here the time of 3:50 with which he was credited just before leaving Europe. None of the British or Americans can match this time, but if the pack is bunched coming in the stretch, finishers with a real "kick" like Halliwell and Thomas or Lovelock will have a good chance to win.

PRESIDENT ON HAND
Count de Baillet-Latour, president of the International Olympic Committee, world governing body of the modern Olympic Games, is to be staged here July 30 to August 14, will lend his dignity to the cosmopolitan classic with his arrival today.

It is said Count de Baillet-Latour will take his position in the tribune of honor in the Olympic Stadium on the opening day, second only to Vice-President Curtis, who will officially open the games. Heading the list of today's arrivals will be Brazil's team of thirty-one athletes and some fifteen odd officials, who will arrive on the St. Ildefonso, laden with coffee to be sold in the United States to help pay the expense of the team.

Other arrivals expected today include the United States women's track and field team of thirty-six, and a party of Swiss athletes and officials. Saturday's schedule calls for the arrival of a lone star, John Edward Lovelock, Rhodes scholar from Oxford University, and a strong entry in the 1,500-metre run. As the count now stands some fifteen hundred athletes already have gathered here, although all are not housed in the Olympic village.

U.S. and Germany Break Even in Singles Matches

PARIS, July 22.—Germany and the United States broke even today in the first two matches of their interzone Davis Cup final. Ellsworth Vines, Wimbledon and American champion, defeated Daniel Prenn, ranking German star, 6-3, 6-3, 0-6, 6-4, after Gottfried von Cramm, of Germany, had won the opening match from Frank Shields, 7-5, 5-7, 6-4, 8-6.

John Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison, United States doubles pair, will meet a German combination, as yet unnamed, in doubles tomorrow. Vines meets Von Cramm Sunday, while Shields plays Prenn.

A BUILDING FIRE THAT LASTED FOR 78 DAYS!
A FIVE STORY STRUCTURE, SURROUNDED BY AN IMMENSE WALL OF ICE 8 FEET THICK, BURNED CONTINUOUSLY FOR 78 DAYS BEFORE A COMBINED FORCE OF 15 STREAMS OF WATER COULD PENETRATE THE ICE AND EXTINGUISH THE FLAMES. —McCarthy's Rag Shop, Troy, N.Y. 1906

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
The Freezing Paradox—To melt ice into water it is necessary to supply a definite quantity of heat, over seventy-nine calories for every gram of water. The heat is absorbed or is rendered latent, causing no rise in the temperature of the water.
Conversely, when liquid water becomes solid the latent heat of fusion has to be dissipated. Thus water while freezing generates a quantity of heat amounting to seventy-nine calories for every gram of water.

Bill Peden Arrives Home; Off to Train Olympic Bike Squad

Victoria's Great Cyclist Here for Brief Period—Heads for South With McKinnon, Jackson and Walker Early This Morning

Bill "Torchy" Peden, Victoria's gift to big time bicycle riding, dropped into town yesterday afternoon, after a brilliant season riding in the six-day classics in the East. He arrived on the 1 o'clock boat, and twelve hours later was heading for the Olympic Games in Los Angeles along with Archie McKinnon, physical director at the Y.M.C.A.; Penny Walker, British Columbia backstroke swim champion, and Stan Jackson, alternate on the Canadian bike team. The quartette left on the 1 o'clock boat this morning for Seattle. From the Sound city the party will motor down to the scene of the Olympic Games.

Before returning home after winning the six-day race at Atlantic City with Francis Georgetti as his partner, Peden dropped into Toronto, where he went into conference with officials of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association regarding coaching the Dominion cycle squad at Los Angeles. He was immediately appointed trainer and coach, and was ordered to proceed south as soon as possible.

Victoria's world-wide known cyclist came home from the East with "Polly" Pollard, another local lad who is making a name for himself in the six-day races. Pollard is not going south with the party, but will stay here until the first big six-day race starts in the East.

PRAIRES RIDERS
"I think that Lew Rush, Glen Robbins and Frank Elliott should give a good account of themselves at Los Angeles. They are in fine condition from the reports I have received. As soon as I arrive at the Stadium I will put the team through special training methods, and expect to have them in first-class shape for the big classics," Peden said.

Following the Olympic, Peden will return to Victoria and stay with his parents for five or six weeks, and then head for the first big meet at Montreal in October. Peden stated that there is a possibility that a six-day race will be staged in Vancouver during the last week in August.

MAJORIE LEEMING WOMEN'S FAVORITE

OTTAWA, July 22 (CP).—More than 500 racquet wielders, including stars of the game from Canada, United States and Bermuda, will battle for the Canadian lacrosse championship on the courts of the Rideau Tennis Club for a week starting Saturday. More than 125 of the players are native points outside the Ottawa district, making the championship competition the most representative in its history.

George Lott, Jr., of Chicago, second ranking United States star, leads the American invasion with Francis Parker, alternate, and Milwaukee player, Helen Fulton, Chicago; Esther Barthel, Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Louise Hostetter, dominating the Dominion lacrosse championship. He is outstanding United States entrants in the women's events.

Three Canadian Davis Cup players, Marcel Rainville, Montreal; Gilbert Nunn, Toronto, and Walter Martin, Regina, lead the Canadian men entered. Another outstanding Canadian player entered is T. O. Ryall, Vancouver, who arrived here today and worked out.

Oliver Wade, Toronto, and Marie Leeming, Victoria, are native stars favored to capture the women's singles event. Jean Adie Burritt, Toronto, and Mrs. John Patrick, Montreal, recently crowned Quebec women's singles champion, are other Canadians counted on to repulse the United States invasion. Gladys Hutchings, of Bermuda, also will be a factor in this branch of the championship tourney.

FULL DISTANCE ROWED BY CREW

Leander Eight Went Over Regular Course in Making Remarkable Time

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., July 22 (CP).—Leander crew of Hamilton rowed the full distance of 2,000 metres in the Canadian Olympic trials last Tuesday, the executive committee of the Canadian Association of Amateur Rowers definitely stated today. The time of 5:40 1-5 was accurate, but the course was "fast" on that day, the committee declared.

Following the Hamilton crew's victory in sensational time, sports experts believed the course had been measured "short." The facts do not substantiate this at all, the association declared.

The committee felt an injustice was done to the Hamilton crew in the report as to the course being "short."

VANCOUVER SCULLER CAPTURES CANADIAN HONORS BACK EAST

Snead Takes Dominion Championship by Length and Half From Three Others—Dons, Argonauts and St. Catharines Figure in Victories at Henley Regatta

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., July 22 (CP).—Honors were more evenly divided in the second day's racing at Canada's 1932 Henley. Dons and Argonauts, two Toronto clubs, and Vancouver and St. Catharines broke into the win column today with victories in final events. The best representation of United States clubs, which captured three wins to Canada's one on the first day, took four more titles today when crews of the Detroit and Buffalo clubs came down the old Henley course in front. The senior sculls was annexed by B. Conlin, from Argos, with a masterful exhibition of rowing.

Ninety minutes later Conlin entered the association singles against J. Rutherford, of Princeton; Dan Wallace, of Halifax; Mac Mac, and R. R. McMillan, of Argonauts, and moved all down in the last 500 yards except his fellow clubmate, McMillan, who just beat the youngster by a half-length.

DONS SPRING UPSET
Dons' victory in the 148-pound junior doubles was a surprise. B. Jones replaced G. McMillan in the shell with A. Green and easily defeated A. Mitchell and G. Hude, Detroit.

Buffalo Westsides added to their string by capturing the 140-pound junior eights from Detroit and Dons. O. E. Snead, 140-pound single sculler from Vancouver, proved the wisdom of his club in sending him East by winning the championship in his class from J. Ryan, of Argonauts; E. Rhymer, of St. Catharines; and J. Flavien, of Argonauts. The finish was in that order. The time was 9 mins. flat.

The junior eights, open division, was won after a severe tussle by Wyandotte, who went over the line just a few feet ahead of Hamilton Leanders.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
PITTSBURGH, July 22.—The Chicago Cubs were beaten back today in their first attack of the important "first place" series, Pittsburgh increasing its lead to three and one-half games with a 3 to 1 victory.

Steve Swetonic was nipped for ten safeties, but he kept them well scattered to register his eleventh win of the season. Pittsburgh bunched four of their ten hits off Pat Malone to score all their runs in the second inning. Barbee started the uprising with a single and he made third when Gus Suhr cracked a double. Both runners scored on Tony Piet's two-bagger, and after two were retired Swetonic scored Piet with an infield single.

The Cubs made their only run in the fifth. Hartnett doubled, waited there while two of his mates were put out and scored on Bernabe's single. Today's victory came as a birthday gift to Manager George Gibson of the Pirates. He is fifty-two today. R. H. E. RAILWAYMEN WIN WHITNEY TROPHY

Lawn Bowlers of C.P.R. Club Capture Interclub Competition After Great Contest

By defeating their opponents of the Burnside Lawn Bowling Club Wednesday night, members of the C.P.R. Bowling Club captured the Whitney Trophy in the interclub contest which had been carried on since early in the season. All clubs in the district had teams entered, and throughout the contest was a keenly-fought one, the result being in doubt until the completion of the final game.

Teams from the Victoria club battled with those of the Victoria West while Burnside bowlers were going down to defeat at the hands of the C.P.R. aggregation, thereby giving the latter the best standing in the competition and possession of the trophy.

Final scores were: Victoria West 51, Victoria 12; Burnside 18, C.P.R. 52.

The railwaymen will thus hold the cup for the coming year. WIN EVENING DOUBLES
On the greens of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club, Wednesday evening, E. E. Corbett and H. M. Wright succeeded in winning the evening doubles competition of the Victoria club by defeating, in the final game, C. R. Oldershaw and J. Munro.

The winners of the evening doubles will now meet the winners of the afternoon doubles, which are yet to be decided, for possession of the doubles championship of the Victoria club.

AUSTRALIANS GIVE GREAT PERFORMANCE

Touring Cricketers Score 425 for Six in Two and Half Hours

WINDSOR, July 22 (CP).—After dismissing a Border Cities eleven for ninety-four runs at Kennedy Stadium today, Arthur Mailey's touring Australian cricketers proceeded to give one of their great batting displays in hitting up 425 runs for six wickets in two hours and a half.

The feature of the Aussies' inning was the splendid hitting of E. K. Tolhurst and V. Y. Richardson, captain of the tourists. The former completed 105 runs before being caught by Hawken, while Richardson gave the crowd its biggest thrills in piling up 121, not out. The Australian captain delighted the crowd by hitting boundary after boundary, and lifted a number of balls clear over the stands and out of the park.

McCabe also indulged in some heavy hitting before being caught by Hawken, who starred in the field for Windsor.

Fleetwood-Smith and the wily Mailey proved too great a puzzle for the local batsmen. The left-hander claimed eight wickets for 41 runs, and the great "goosy" artist five for 16. Alan Kippax, stylist of the team, scored 61 runs before being retired by Caunce, but Dan Bradman, sensational star of the visitors, lasted only long enough to knock up 24. He was caught off his pads by Crowe, off Dunlop's bowling.

MANY NET STARS GO ON STRIKE

Withdrawal of Club Privileges Following Elimination Cause of Trouble

TEN U.S. RANKING ACES TAKING PART
NEW YORK, June 22.—The first organized tennis "strike" in the history of the game in the United States was declared today as thirteen tennis players, including three of the ten ranking stars of the world, withdrew from the Seabright tournament, one of the fixtures of the season in the East.

The players, headed by Berkeley Bell, Clifford Sutter and Keith Gledhill, had demanded the club drop its rule of withdrawing club privileges as soon as a player was eliminated from the tournament. A demand that met with a flat refusal from Hooker Talcott, tournament chairman.

The "strikers" now are playing in the Crescent-Hamilton tournament at Huntington, Long Island, and just what they would do next week had not been decided. The Seabright tournament opens Monday.

The withdrawal of the thirteen leaves Seabright with only Sidney B. Wood, Jr., as a headliner in men's play. Most of the ranking women are in tip top condition. The exception of Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, who plays.

Percy Williams Reaches South For Big Games

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—King of the sprint, Percy Williams, of Vancouver, dominated the spotlight of Olympic competitors arriving here today. He said he is in tip top condition.

It was Williams, a high school lad at the time, who started the world four years ago by winning the 100 and 200-metre dashes at Amsterdam.

CHINA KING DISQUALIFIED

A. J. Smith's Horse Finishes First in Liverpool Cup But Is Disqualified

LIVERPOOL, Eng., July 22 (AP).—A. J. Smith's China King today finished first in the Liverpool Cup, one of the fixtures of the English turf, but was disqualified, and Lady Derby's Zane Grey, which finished second, declared the winner. Mrs. F. C. Nolan's Royal Athlete, three-quarters of a length better, was second and F. Straker's Yellow Dun third.

The betting was 9 to 1 against Zane Grey, a four-year-old chestnut colt by Warden of the Marches out of Zarate, and 9 to 1 against Royal Athlete.

Charlie Geiger Lands 42-Pound Spring Salmon

CHARLIE Geiger won the gold button of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers Association while fishing with a party in H. Greed's boat at Saanich Arm. Geiger landed a forty-two-pound spring salmon on regulation tackle. This is the second largest fish taken since the association was formed a few weeks ago. The party landed several other fine springs and twelve grise.

NORTH SHORE TO MEET 'PEG ELEVEN TODAY

First Game of the Western Canada Final Carded—Second on Monday

TORONTO, July 22 (CP).—Undismayed by their four-goal handicap, Montreal Bluebonnets will enter the second of their two-game round with Toronto Scottish tomorrow determined on a much better showing than Thursday's effort when they lost, 5 to 1. The teams are playing for the right to enter the Dominion final of the Connaught Cup and soccer championship of Canada.

In Winnipeg, British Columbia North Shores and Manitoba Telephones start their two-game Western Canada final tomorrow. The second and deciding game will be played on Monday and it now seems likely the winner will have to travel to Toronto for the Dominion final as Toronto Scottish are strong favorites to capture the Eastern round.

Bluebonnets, however, do not consider themselves eliminated and should they upset all pregame forecasts and defeat Scottish on the round, the final game will be played in Winnipeg.

OLD-TIME STAR VISITING CITY

Arthur Belfrey, Lacrosse Player of Forty Years Ago, Here From South

Arthur E. Belfrey, star lacrosse player with the Victoria team back in 1892-3-4, the years when Canada's national game was making great strides, returned to the city yesterday from San Francisco after an absence of nearly thirty years to renew old acquaintances and visit relatives. He motored up from the South and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. "Harry" Day, 624 Moss Street.

Forty years ago, Belfrey was one of the mainstays of Victoria's great lacrosse team. On his return from California, Mr. Belfrey recalled the battles for British Columbia supremacy on the old Caledonia grounds, which covered the residential block on Government Street between Niagara and Simcoe Streets. It was there that Victoria held its own against the powerful Mainland opposition and many other visiting squads from the Eastern part of Canada.

The following old-timers were members of the same team as Belfrey: W. G. McKenzie, W. F. Blight, T. Cullin, A. E. McNaughton, Ross Eckardt, W. H. "Bully" Cullin, T. Williams, W. H. Clark, W. Jackson, B. Patterson, R. Williams, W. E. Ditchburn, Charlie Cullin, H. E. Norton, Thomas R. Cusack, and R. "Dulip" Foster acted as trainer.

Robertson, 21-17; Dr. Hicks and Joe Taylor beat John Robertson and W. Whyte, 21-14; J. Mann and W. Kennerly beat T. Brown and M. Brown, 21-15; J. D. Davis and F. Smith beat D. Bell and F. J. Dalby, 21-9; W. Mossey and R. Yates, Jr., beat H. Waterfield and W. Moncrieff, 21-8; A. J. Taylor and W. Younger beat J. Fellows and T. Shields, 21-20. The latter game proved to be the stellar attraction of the round, going to twenty-seven ends and lasting four hours.

SUBURBAN HEIGHTS—PORCH COMFORT

By GLUTAS WILFAM

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

EAT OR DRINK SOMETHING EVERY MORNING

There are a number of individuals who claim that they feel better if they take no breakfast in the morning.

Now they should know how they feel better than any one else, but nevertheless, as far as general health is concerned, it will be found that they are not as rugged, as free from constipation or illness of any kind, as are those who eat and enjoy a good breakfast.

Of course there are many whose occupation of profession keep them up so late at night that they eat but two meals a day and enjoy good health; their first meal of the day may be well on toward noon. I am speaking of the average individual who gets to his work between 7 and 9 in the morning.

My suggestion, and of course every family doctor would make the same suggestion, is that they take something into the stomach if it be only a glass of water, a glass of milk, an orange or a banana; any easily digested article of food.

Why is something on the stomach of benefit in the morning? Because it stimulates the flow of bile from the liver and the gall bladder so that it flows into the upper part of small intestine, and also the large intestine is stimulated to action.

It has been shown that just as soon as some food is taken, there is actually a small flow of bile into the upper part of small intestine within ten or thirty minutes after the food has been eaten, the flow of bile increases and continues to flow for hours afterwards. The movement of the small intestine itself reaches its greatest strength thirty minutes after food is eaten.

What is my point? A good flow of bile is one of the greatest aids to health nature has given us. Aside from the action of bile on fats, which enables the small intestine to absorb them, bile is a powerful antiseptic, and many harmful organisms are destroyed by the bile.

And finally, and this is most important from the health standpoint, bile is nature's purgative, as it stimulates the large intestine into action, and wastes are thus promptly removed from the system.

If you can't eat breakfast, take something, if only a glass of water. A youth whose sweetie used to stand in the door and wave at him, was asked why she didn't wave any more. This was the reply: "It didn't prove to be a permanent wave."

What Today Means

"LEO"

If July 23 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:05 a.m. to 12:45 p.m., from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m., and from 10 p.m. to 11:35 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:45 a.m. to 9 a.m. and from 2 p.m. to 3:25 p.m.

July 23 will bring in its train, so the stars say, troubles and anxieties of a most profitable nature. Love will be put to the test and not found wanting.

Children born on this July 23 will have restless natures, and will be geared by nature to a high rate of speed. They will be self-centred, impatient and slightly selfish. They may be credited with absolute honesty and a high degree of intelligence. They will be too straightforward to be artful.

Whilst there is much in your character that calls for admiration and respect, there is also much that invites criticism and merits disapproval. You are, undoubtedly, quick and alert, and possess the saving grace of a keen sense of humor. Your wit, however, is not all harmless; you let loose a barbed joke just because you think it smart. You do not think of the hurt it may cause.

You work in fits and starts. Consistency is a jewel that you do not possess. Your opinions, too, are as variable as the weather. You are also too critical of the work of others and too quick to give voice to your own thoughts. On the other hand, you are a staunch friend and ally, and if at times, you strain the chain of your friendship to the point of breaking, you are not slow in making amends. Married life will not be for either you or your partner "one long, sweet song," but the trouble caused by your volatility will be offset by repentance and your efforts at atonement.

NEW CHEQUES IN PARIS

Banks in Paris are just taking up the idea of performing, as well as crossing cheques as a protection against forgery. One of the private members' bills tabled for the consideration of the new Chamber of Deputies provides for such a measure. There have been many cases in France in which the thieves have by means of chemicals, removed the two diagonal lines and cashed the stolen cheque. The bill states that perforation will prevent this.
